

Committee Will Draft Plans re Tourist Traffic

A representative gathering of the business men of this district was held in Assembly hall in Hazelton on Saturday evening to discuss the possibilities of providing accommodation for the tourist traffic that is so anxious to come to this district. Dr. Wrinch was responsible for the meeting and occupied the chair. He outlined a possible scheme and told of an interview he had with Sir Henry Thornton on his recent visit to this district. The president freely discussed the subject and gave an idea of the accommodation required by the tourist.

Those present discussed the angles of the enterprise and the feeling was unanimous that a committee should be appointed to work out a definite scheme and to report to a public meeting to be called when the scheme is ready. Those on the committee are R. S. Sargent, W. S. Sargent, A. R. Macdonald, C. H. Sawle, S. J. Winsby, C. W. Dawson and Dr. Wrinch.

It is expected the committee will have plans prepared and that accommodation will be ready for tourists next summer.

The meeting was also unanimous in support of the immediate completion of the connecting link on the main highway between Burns Lake and Endako. The failure of the government to make this connection is costing this northern interior hundreds of thousands of dollars in motor tourist traffic.

Smithers Fair

In spite of unfavorable weather the Smithers fair, which opened on Wednesday, promised to be quite up to the standard. The hall exhibits are even better than ever and some of the classes are simply wonderful. Although the season was not considered favorable for garden produce the display at the fair is even better than last year and the same applies to flowers. On Thursday morning there was a heavy rain, but that would not necessarily affect the attendance if the weather cleared up during the day.

Left For Vancouver

S. Bergman and family left on Thursday morning for Vancouver where he hopes to make his home in future. On Saturday last he held a public sale of all his household effects and it was a great success in spite of the rain which kept many outsiders away. The prices paid were exceptionally good and everything was sold. Mr. Bergman was greatly pleased with the sale. On Monday evening there was a community dance in honor of the family and very jolly time was spent.

Flower Show Was Riot of Bloom and Color

Hazelton's First Floral Exhibition Opened Eyes of All Beholders—Great Many Visitors From Outside Points

In all Northern British Columbia there has never been a collection of cut flowers such as was seen last Friday at the first flower show under the auspices of the Hazelton Horticultural Society. The Assembly Hall was not a foot too large to hold the exhibits in spite of the fact that two tables, the full length of the hall were provided.

In regard to quality of bloom the specimens shown there were the equal of what may be seen in the large cities, as was testified by visitors in the district who are in the habit of attending the big shows. There could be a greater variety of flowers and there could be a much greater number of exhibits, but the individual specimens could not be excelled very much.

The more popular flowers with the growers seemed to be sweet peas, dahlias and gladioli, and the judges had their work cut for them in these classes. Not only was there a large number of entries in each, but so keen were the entrants to produce the best, that there was, in most cases, very little to choose between them. The flowers also showed that a deal of money had been expended on seed and bulbs and a great deal of time spent on the culture of the flowers.

The show was open to members only and the membership was confined to a radius of ten miles from Hazelton, so that the first show was of such a nature that this district at once became recognized as the flower garden of the north and of the centre of the province.

Besides the great display of cut flowers entered for competition there were many house plants on exhibition, and many of these were exceptionally fine. Then for decoration purposes great armfuls of cut flowers, just as fine as those in competition, were used as bouquets all around the hall, together with banks of of hazel bushes and cedar bows. The effect was most pleasing and as the visitors to the show entered the building they were amazed at the brilliant display and the wonderful perfumes that filled the hall.

On the stage tier after tier of shelving was erected and on these were placed the flowers, after the show was over, thus forming a huge bank of bloom, and they remained there during the dance in the evening until midnight when D. D. Munro acted as auctioneer and the bouquets were all sold. Some sixty dollars were realized. The visitors from outside were particularly eager to secure the flowers and some good prices were paid.

The opening feature of the first flower show was a parade of decorated cars. Thirteen autos were in the procession which was started from the old government buildings and proceeded to the Omineca Hotel where the judges were located and then circled the town and out to the hospital and return. Mrs. W. W. Anderson lead the procession and the prize was won by Mrs. J. D. Galloway whose car was decorated chiefly with wild flowers gathered in the neighborhood. The effect was very pleasing and much credit is due Mrs. Cox who assisted in the decorating. The judges were Jack McNeil and E. M. Hoops of Telkwa, while the judges for the flower show were Mrs. D. D. Munro, Terrace; Mrs. Ockleshaw of Smithers and Mrs. Mathieson of the hospital. The number of flower entries was about 200.

During the show in the afternoon a committee of ladies served refreshments at small tables at the side of the hall and they were kept busy for several hours.

The receipts for the day were over $380 and this should put the Society in good financial standing.

The dance in the evening was the biggest that has been held in Hazelton for many years. Nearly all the visitors stayed over for the dance and the hall was filled to capacity. Gray's orchestra of Smithers supplied the music and the dance was continued until an early hour with most of the people remaining for the home waltz. The receipts were well over a hundred dollars.

Besides the majority of the local people being present there were representatives from nearly every section along the line. Some forty autos from Smithers and Telkwa were down and all the visitors were delighted with their trip and with the show. In the evening Dr. Wrinch, M.L.A., and president of the Hazelton Horticultural Society, took occasion to express the appreciation of the society and of the people of the district of the very generous support given by the people of the other towns in the district.

Hoppers Were Hungry

Ostriches and goats must shortly look to their laurels as leading consumers of indigestible articles of diet. Mr. Horne, of New York, who has been cruising timber in the district for some time, reports that during a recent excursion downriver he was literally eaten out of house and home by grasshoppers. Returning to his camp one evening he was surprised to find his tent swarming with this insect pest, and upon examination of his belongings

OVERHEARD AROUND NEW HAZELTON

Misses Mabel McIntyre and Alice Smith, of Smithers, were guests this week of Mrs. Harris.

Miss Sheasgreen will return on Monday night to resume her duties as teacher in the school.

School opens on Tuesday morning and children and parents are all glad. The attendance at the New Hazelton school will be materially increased this term.

Miss Sawle of Hamilton, Ont., left Wednesday morning and was accompanied by Mrs. C. H. Sawle. They will visit in Edmonton and Sanguo.

Weather permitting a number of local people will take in the Barbecue at Telkwa on Labor Day.

Avis Wall of Smithers was a guest this week of Jessie Smith.

On Wednesday morning Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Goddard left for Smithers fair. They took a big collection of vegetables, flowers and canned goods.

For the last few weeks four to six cars of poles per week have been shipped from this point and a good many more cars are ready to go. The pole and tie camps are being made ready for the fall and winter work. The production this coming winter promises to be the biggest yet.

New Hazelton was well represented at the flower show, and local exhibitors captured their share of the prizes.

On Tuesday night the C.G.I.T. gave a concert and dance in the hotel to raise funds to wipe out the camp deficit. About thirty dollars were taken at the door and for refreshments and ticket sales. Mrs. MacKay and little Marian, and Mrs. Pound assisted with the program.

Mitchell Newman went up to Smithers to the fair and the fair one this week.

discovered that the invaders had feasted on his silk "fly" and had also dined somewhat largely on the wool blankets. A more minute inspection of his other articles revealed the fact that his unbidden guests were not at all finicky in their taste, they having sampled generously of the leather cover of a notebook that had been left in the tent. Mr. Horne promptly moved camp before the "hoppers" developed designs upon his person.

C. L. Fraser, of Cranbrook, was a Terrace visitor last week.

Try to Hold Cup With Hazelton District Exhibit

The Hazelton Citizens' Association met on Tuesday evening in the schoolhouse. The meeting was well attended and those present showed keen interest in the several matters coming up for discussion.

Arrangements are being carried out to secure a district display to be sent to Prince Rupert Exhibition, which is to be held on September 9-13. Assembly Hall will be open in time to receive all produce and other articles for the exhibit. "We aim to hold the cup."

A resolution went to Dr. H. C. Wrinch, M.L.A.-elect, urging the completion of the Pacific highway between Burns Lake and Endako.

Terrace

W. C. Sparks and Jack have returned from Vancouver.

Leslie Skinner, of Copper City, returned from Vancouver last week.

R. W. Riley successfully underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Hazelton Hospital on Wednesday of last week, and is now well on the road to recovery.

The Trail Rangers spent an enjoyable week camping at Lakelse.

Miss Allison, of Prince Rupert, was the guest of Mrs. Carr for a few days.

Mrs. Harry King is spending a vacation as the guest of relatives in Telkwa.

Charles Burrison was the victim of a painful accident when he caught his hand in a cog wheel at the mill. He went to Prince Rupert for treatment.

The home of Mrs. Geo. Little was the scene of a merry children's party on Wednesday of last week, in honor of Linnia Hanson who is visiting there.

The Skeena River canneries are closing, and many natives are returning after a most successful season.

E. Roberts and W. Nelson have returned from Port Essington.

Mrs. C. F. A. Green spent a few days at Copper City as the guest of Mrs. Skinner.

The Sisters of St. Joseph's Convent, Prince Rupert, who have been in Terrace for the last few weeks, on vacation, have all returned to the coast.

The Presbyterian Guild met last week at the home of Mrs. T. E. Brooks. The next meeting will be held at the residence of Mrs. L. H. Kenney on Sept. 4.

Seeing Europe With the Editors

VI.—A Tour of the Provinces, Scotland and Wales.

One hundred minutes were sufficient on the Great Western Railway to transport us nearly that number of miles from London to the centre of England. It was on Wednesday, July 9th, that we explored Shakespeare's country from Leamington.

Warwick Castle is a great grim fortress by the sparkling Avon, full of interesting pictures and armor—not forgetting the great "punch bowl"—while on the lawns peacocks strut and call stridently. From the home of the kingmaker we passed to St. Mary's Church, where the Beauchamps lie under carved tombs, and banners and noble memorials bear witness that Warwickshire has "played the man" in modern struggles.

All this, including a welcome by the mayor of Warwick, took place in the morning, and before we sat down to lunch, with the mayor of Stratford-on-Avon in the town hall, we had "charabanged" through Charlecote, with its deer park, lovely hall, and "tumble-down" stile.

The afternoon went in "doing", in approved American tourist style, the sights of Shakespeare's town—the church where he lies, the house where he was born, the cottage at Shottery where he wooed Anne Hathaway, and the memorial theatre where his plays are presented at spring and summer festivals each year.

As our programme runs, we "paused" at Kenilworth Castle, that great ruined fortress where history, romance and literature conspire to make men dream—that is, those who have time to sit amid its sheep-nibbled mounds and meditate. At night we dined with the mayor of Leamington and met many fellow scribes of the Staffordshire and Warwickshire Newspaper Society.

Next morning we inspected the famous pump room and baths, and revelled in the beauty of the gardens nearby. Then we were humming south for five and a half hours, with only one stop before we were standing outside Torquay station listening to a merry welcome from Mr. Alfred T. Gregor, president of the South-Western Federation of Newspaper Owners.

Torquay is new, as towns go here. It is linked by houses to Paignton, and may soon take in Brixham, famous of old for its trawlers and as the landing place of William of Orange. Its motto is "Health and Happiness." The medical baths service, placed at our disposal, did much to bring some of us back to normalcy.

At these baths the mayor received us and dancing followed. The captain of the U.S.S. West Virginia held out a hand here for many Canadians.

Next morning we boarded a fleet of the ubiquitous charabancs and motored through high-banked Devon lanes to Dartmouth. A lovely trip by steamer up the Dart came next. The Royal Naval College looked down on a happy throng. At Totnes were disembarked and motored back to Torquay.

After a splendid lunch as guests of the corporation at the town hall, where the mayor of Plymouth attended to convey a welcome, we got horribly late for the tenders sent to take us aboard H.M.S. Revenge, but most of the party ultimately visited her. One of the guides there was Lieut. Mountbatten, who married, not long ago, Miss Edwina Ashley, one of the richest heiresses of England. He is a son of Prince Louis of Battenberg, to whom is due much of the credit for having the Royal Navy ready to fight when the need came in 1914.

Luckily our evening was "free" and so one might wander to vantage points and look at Tor Bay, crammed with the ships of the Atlantic fleet which had come in that morning.

We travelled to Bath next day. First came a delightful motor drive from Torquay to Exeter.

Sidelights on a Great Industry

TOPS ALL PREVIOUS ESTIMATES

PAYROLL OF FOREST INDUSTRIES
IN 1923 NOW SHOWN TO BE $60,000,000

Surprising Vastness of Amount Demonstrates All-Importance of Lumbering

RECENT official investigations show that the industrial payroll of the Forest Industries of British Columbia for 1923 was far greater than the original estimate.

It has now been ascertained that the sum actually paid out in wages last year to the workers in the woods, in lumber manufacturing and re-manufacturing plants and in pulp and paper mills exceeded the truly incredible sum of $56,300,000.

It must be remembered that this figure does not include wage payments to office and administrative staffs and to persons employed in the sale and distribution of the finished article, nor does it take into account the transportation forces exclusively engaged in handling the product on land and water.

$60,000,000 Disbursed

When all these are included it is safe to assert that in 1923 the amount of money disbursed in wages by the Forest Industries of B.C. approximated to $60,000,000.

Every day fresh evidence comes to hand demonstrating the extent to which British Columbia is dependent on the unhampered working of its great basic industry.

Some idea of the magnitude of the lumbermen's payroll may be gathered from the fact that in 1923 it was more than three times as great as the total revenue of the province.

SYNOPSIS OF LAND ACT AMENDMENTS

PRE-EMPTIONS

Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.

Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emption is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 5,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 8,000 feet per acre east of that Range.

Applications for pre-emption are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner.

Pre-emption must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

For more detailed information see the Bulletin "How to Pre-empt Land."

PURCHASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes; minimum price of first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

Mill, factory, or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.

HOMESITE LEASES

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

LEASES

For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

GRAZING

Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under a Grazing Commissioner. Annual grazing permits are issued based on numbers ranged, priority being given to established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free, or partially free, permits are available for settlers, campers and travellers, up to ten head.

With the Editors

We skirted Dartmoor and there gathered heather. In royal state a hearty welcome awaited us in the ancient Guildhall from the mayor of Exeter.

At the luncheon members of our party who hailed from Exeter, Ontario, returned thanks. Then we went to the great cathedral where you may see a memorial to R. D. Blackmore, who wrote "Lorna Doone". Out into the sunshine again, through the old city walls, we came to the war memorial on Northernhay, unique in that it commemorates the prisoners of war as well as the active branches of the services. It was all explained by Sir James Owen, whose paper, The Express, containing a full account of our visit, was put into our hands before we entrained a few moments later.

Bath is a beautiful old city set in and along the sides of the Avon valley. Its architecture is reminiscent of Paris. The buildings are nearly all of solid stone. On Sunday, July 13, we drove through the streets and parks and then wound away up the hills to Norton St. Philip, with its ancient George Inn, where Monmouth stayed in 1685. It is over 600 years old.

On the invitation of the Hot Mineral Baths Committee, we lunched at the Grand Pump Room Hotel and afterwards toured all through the bathing establishment and visited the Roman baths. Above them, on the Roman promenade, we took tea with the mayor and mayoress of Bath.

Now from the beauties of the leafy Midlands, of "glorious" Devon and of Somerset, we plunged into the industrialism of South Wales. Leaving Bath, a run of a little over an hour via the famous Severn tunnel, landed us in Cardiff. Here, as well as coal and docks, are some magnificent municipal buildings, art galleries and museums. At the first we were welcomed by the lord mayor, who, at the dinner given at night by local newspapers, proved to be the wittiest and brightest after-dinner speaker we had yet encountered.

After lunch we went to the docks and to the great Dowlais works, where we saw the various processes of making steel. We were the guests of the G.W.R. and of Guest, Keen & Nettlefolds. After tea in a warehouse we mounted the flat roof of a high warehouse and thence saw the Canadian Mariner entering port with Canadian cattle on board. Coming back we inspected the various coaling appliances and went over Cardiff Castle, one home of the Marquis of Bute.

Sir William Davies, whose daughter and son-in-law live near Vancouver, presided at the dinner. He visited Canada with the Empire Press Union in 1920 and was taken ill in Vancouver. Among the musical fare at this function were some delightful solos by John Williams, bass, a National Eisteddfod prize winner in English pronunciation "Good Health" in Welsh is "Yak-e-dah."

From Cardiff next day we went to Swansea, where an equally warm welcome awaited us. One unfortunate British Columbian, lingering with the mayor, learned what press photography can do with masculine beauty and modesty (?). The rest of the morning went in a trip by tug round the extensive docks. Mr. George Bulkley, whom we met aboard, was a naval architect in Vancouver before the war. He is now traffic superintendent of the G. W. R. docks at Swansea.

Montreal and Quebec are linked to Swansea by weekly sailings of the C.G.M.M. and to Vancouver by monthly sailings of the same line, via Panama. The Anglo-Persian Oil refineries are located here.

The party was split up in the afternoon to visit the anthracite collieries in the Amman valley, the Mond nickel works at Clydach, the Manneman tube works, Anglo-Persian Oil Co.'s works and Modern tin and steel mills. Some went also to the Gower peninsula.

At night, apart from the excellent dinner, where Mr. Henry Mond, M.P., presided, the speeches and cordiality of our hosts (the Amalgamated Anthracite Collieries and the Mond Nickel Co.), the event will ever be memorable for the wonderful singing to which we were treated by the Ammanford choir, conducted by Gwilym Jones. These fifty men and women, mostly colliery employees, proved that industrialism cannot quench the fire of Welsh music. They sang in Welsh and in English, old Welsh National songs and the two best-known songs of purely Canadian origin.

It was an early call next morning and in some rain we headed by train for Chester. Thus far the only showers had been at Bath. On the continent and in London the sun had smiled brightly on our pilgrimage of haste, of feasting, of sightseeing and, let us add, of self-education.

Mrs. J. T. Phelan, wife of the general superintendent of Dominion Telegraphs, passed away at her home in Vancouver on Tuesday. The north sends sympathy to Mr. Phelan.

The district was visited by a heavy rain several days this week and much good resulted.

Dance Held By Fall Fair Most Enjoyable One

The dance held in the G.W.V.A. hall under the auspices of the Terrace Fall Fair Association last Friday was a most enjoyable event. Mr. McLaren, who had the arrangements in hand, greatly pleased the dancers. The music was furnished by Mrs. Attwood, Chas. Toombs and Drummer Murrin, while the refreshments were attended to by Mesdames Braun and Bleecker, of the fair board. The balloon feature created a good deal of fun, the last surviving balloon being won by Mrs. W. E. Smith, who was presented with a box of chocolates.

The community was well represented by those who have the welfare of the fall fair at heart, and every dollar will help the funds.

It was four a.m. when the dancers decided they could wait until another time to quench their fantastic spirit.

Boys and Girls Had Great Time at Lakelse Camp

The Trail Rangers and Willing Workers camp at Lakelse this year was a great success. Ten girls stayed at the camp from the 11th to the 16th. One the 18th nine boys went into camp until the 23rd. On behalf of the young people the officers wish to extend their thanks to all who helped to make the two weeks so enjoyable to all concerned. The Willing Workers are indebted to H. Willson for the use of his motor truck to convey them to and from the lake, also to Orval Kenney and W. Anderson for driving them in and out. To the Terrace Motors thanks are due for their kindness in taking the two camps up to the hot springs. Henry Walberg gave the boys an extra treat in the trip he took them down Trout River for quite a way.

During the continued drought the camp was regularly visited by representatives of the forest

It is a pleasure to think that nineteen boys and girls have been in camp this year without accident, and all returned making plans for the next season.

Trace Salmon Movements

One of the mysteries of fish life that has engrossed investigators and still remains unsolved is the location of the haunts of salmon during its period of stay in salt water. In an effort to trace the journeyings of these fish, Alaskan fisheries officers have been trapping a number on the coast, marking them with an identifying tag, and freeing them again. One such salmon was caught by an Indian near Glen Vowell on Saturday, while on its way up stream to the place where it was hatched four years ago, there to spawn and die. Its tail indicated that it had been tagged in Alaskan waters, several hundred miles from "home". Another salmon, similarly marked, was recently found at Lakelse.

No. 8 Canadian National train on Tuesday night was derailed at a point west of Swiftwater and traffic was tied up for hours. It is reported that several passengers were injured, although no information can be secured.

To review conditions generally and also with a view to increasing Canadian Trade relations with South Africa, these five Canadian Senators are now on their way to Cape Town. Photographed aboard the Canadian Pacific S.S. Montroyal they are, from left to right, Hon. Robert Watson, Hon. W. B. Willoughby, Mr. J. F. Taffard, Mr. W. G. McQuarrie, and Mr. E. R. E. Chevrier.

MOUNT GEIKIE CONQUERED BY CANADIANS

TO Canadians goes the honor of being the first to set foot on the top of Mount Geikie, 10,854 feet in altitude and the highest peak in the Ramparts Range of Jasper National Park, along the main line of the Canadian National Railways. The party, composed of Cyril Wates, of Edmonton, Malcolm D. Geddes, of Calgary, and Val E. Fynn, of St. Louis, made their first ascent of Barbican Peak on July 12, and finding the passage too difficult there decided to return and attempt the southeast side, which route had been unsuccessfully attempted in 1922 by Mr. Wates and Dr. Bulyea, of Edmonton. In that year Wates and Bulyea got within 800 feet of the summit when they were compelled to turn back.

Two days later Wates, Geddes and Fynn left camp at 2.30 in the morning and climbed a steep snow gully and up rock chimneys and cracks, one of which led the climbers into the heart of the mountain, finally emerging like a tunnel on the north face with a drop of over 3,000 feet to the Tonquin Valley below. After reaching the altitude where they had been in 1922 the party traversed a narrow ledge encircling the south side of the mountain and reached the top at four o'clock in the afternoon. In doing so they faced a difficult and dangerous rock climb, having to overcome rotten rock and falling stones at many points.

The party descended by moonlight, reaching their camp at 4.30 on the morning of July 15, exhausted but happy over their success.

Other parties are attempting to climb Mount Geikie this summer, but the honor of first reaching the summit must go to Wates, who has just successfully completed his third attempt. Another party, headed by Dr. Thorington, noted American climber, was attempting the ascent with guide Conrad Kain, when they saw the Wates party at the top and turned back.

The illustrations show the serious south side of Mount Geikie; the successful climbers, from left to right, Messrs. Geddes, Fynn and Wates; and their awakening the morning after the ascent.
